

TEXILA'S CERTIFICATE COURSE IN MATERNAL-CHILD HEALTH

This course is designed to cover the issue related to family and population health, focusing on the potential risks.

It will provide instructional and clinical learning experiences on the principles of community health and family health nursing.

WHAT IS FAMILY HEALTH?

- Family Health is the commitment of parents to respond to the aspirations and needs of their family and children.
- The focus on the population and family health is to achieve an optimum health level for the community.

DURATION

3 Months with a Certificate upon Completion

CAREER PROSPECTS

Jobs such as Health Educator, Public Health Administrator, Social Worker, Healthcare consultant, and more.